

HOLIDAY 2012

MADONNA AND CHILD: SELECTIONS FROM THE ACCATINO COLLECTION

12.06.12 - 01.19.13

The Museum of Art & History is proud to present an exhibition showcasing Madonna and Child paintings from the Tom and Christie Accatino Collection. Dating from the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, the selections feature Madonna and Child paintings from Russia, Ukraine, and Spanish Colonial origins. The Accatino's are regional collectors, based in Riverside and Palm Springs, whose eclectic tastes range from California landscape painting to Asian artifacts. They have a particular interest in certain themes and approaches associated with the Old Masters, and over the past few years have amassed a group of portraits, still lifes, and religious subjects by various painters – many still unidentified – working in the Baroque and classic styles prevalent in their day. The selections here are in honor of the holidays and include a range of treatments of the Madonna and Child subject.

KOKESHI AND THE TOTEM: THE ART OF DAVID AND KAZUMI SVENSON

12.06.12 - 01.19.13

David and Kazumi Svenson are mixed-media sculptors based in the High Desert of southern California. They both share an affection for folk-art traditions, in particular the Kokeshi: Japanese folk-art dolls and the totems of Pacific Northwestern tribes. This exhibition highlights the Svenson's traditional wooden Kokeshi collection and its influence on David and Kazumi's mixed media work which includes hand blown glass, neon, wood and concrete.

ANN MARIE ROUSSEAU: SIGHT LINES

12.06.12 - 03.02.12

Ann Marie Rousseau is a photographer, artist and writer formerly of New York City and currently living in southern California. She works with photography, painting and drawing on paper. Rousseau has a deep interest in line in all its manifestations - drawn, painted, photographed.

YOUNG ARTIST WORKSHOP SPONSORED BY THE CHILDREN'S CENTER

The Young Artist Workshops are a great way to be introduced to the creative concepts behind the exhibitions on view at the Museum of Art & History. Every fourth Thursday, those 17 and younger are invited to participate in art projects that have included exercises in assemblage, weaving, and vexillography. The workshops are held in the Hernando and Fran Marroquin Family Classroom.

12.20 Krazy Kokeshi; 2-6 p.m.

01.31 Rewritten by Machines; 2-5 p.m.

02.28 Nervous Structure; 2-5 p.m.

FORUM NIGHT

Will return in January 2013.

JENNIFER GLASS: CYANOTYPES 09.29.12 - 01.01.13

Capturing a moment in the life of its wearer, Glass' garment and prints are created through the deceptively basic methods of light exposure and chemical preparation on fabrics. Vintage gowns from her own collection were used to create life-size imprints on the chemically treated canvas. These "x-ray" photographs (cyanotypes) manifest a process that the artist sees as a deeply metaphorical statement on the roles of politics, power, and fashion.

GARY BASEMAN: THE SEVEN SACRED MAGI 12.06.12 - 01.19.13

MOAH is honored to bring the artwork of multitalented and internationally celebrated artist Gary Baseman to the Antelope Valley. Born and raised in Hollywood, the artist crosses many disciplines as a painter, illustrator, video and performance artist, animator, TV/movie producer, curator, and toy designer. His artwork captures the bittersweet realities of life: playful yet vicious, naughty but nice and always telling a story layered with the pleasures and pain that life brings across generations.

WINTER WISHES: LETTERS TO SANTA

12.06.12 - 01.19.13

This charming exhibition will showcase letters and drawings to Santa inside paper snow globes from local Antelope Valley school children. Don't miss this exhibition that is sure to put you in the holiday spirit.
